Re: Incident Notification

Dear Attorney General MacDonald:

I am writing on behalf of my client, Windstream Holdings II, LLC ("Windstream"), to provide notice of a cybersecurity incident.

On August 23, 2020, Windstream became aware that it was a target of a cybersecurity attack. Windstream immediately launched an investigation to determine the scope of the incident, and a cybersecurity firm was engaged to assist. Windstream also notified federal law enforcement of the incident.

The investigation determined that an unauthorized party gained access to certain Windstream internal systems at various times between July 11, 2020 and August 23, 2020. Findings from the investigation indicate that the party may have obtained some internal data from certain Windstream systems during this period. Windstream conducted a thorough review of the internal information to identify individuals whose personal information may have been involved. On October 12, 2020, Windstream completed its review of the data involved and determined that it contained the personal information of New Hampshire residents, including names, driver's license numbers and Social Security numbers.

Today, Windstream will begin sending notification letters via First Class Mail to the 27 New Hampshire residents whose personal information was identified in the data involved. This notice is being provided in accordance with N.H. RSA § 359-C:20(I)(b). Enclosed are the sample copies of the letters. Windstream is offering two years of complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services to these individuals. Windstream is also providing a toll-free hotline for the individuals to call with any questions regarding the incident.

To help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future, Windstream has implemented additional security measures designed to enhance the security of its internal systems and applications. In addition, Windstream continues to support the investigation by federal law enforcement.

Security Freeze. Security freezes, also known as credit freezes, restrict access to your credit file, making it harder for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. You can freeze and unfreeze your credit file for free. You also can get a free freeze for your children who are under 16. And if you are someone's guardian, conservator or have a valid power of attorney, you can get a free freeze for that person, too.

How will these freezes work? Contact all three of the nationwide credit reporting agencies – Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. If you request a freeze online or by phone, the agency must place the freeze within one business day. If you request a lift of the freeze, the agency must lift it within one hour. If you make your request by mail, the agency must place or lift the freeze within three business days after it gets your request. You also can lift the freeze temporarily without a fee.

It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue.

For New Mexico residents: You may obtain a security freeze on your credit report to protect your privacy and ensure that credit is not granted in your name without your knowledge. You may submit a declaration of removal to remove information placed in your credit report as a result of being a victim of identity theft. You have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report or submit a declaration of removal pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting and Identity Security Act. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.
