Office of the Attorney General
33 Capitol Street
Concord, NH 03302

Dear Attorney General Formella:

We represent Divvy Up, Inc. (“DivvyUp”) located at 914 Railroad Ave, Ste 117, Tallahassee, FL 32310, and are writing to notify your office of an incident that may affect the security of some personal information relating to 152 New Hampshire residents.

DivvyUp was recently notified by its website hosting company that its network security was compromised, allowing malware to be downloaded to the hosted website, permitting customer personal information to be inappropriately accessed by an unknown third party. The website hosting company took immediate action to prevent further unauthorized access and to secure the hosted website. DivvyUp commenced an investigation to determine how the incident occurred and what information, if any, was impacted.

On March 10, 2021, DivvyUp discovered that the third party had access to payment transactions made through the hosted website between May 10, 2021 and June 18, 2021. This would include customer names, addresses, and payment card information including the payment card number, CVC code, and expiration date for the card used to make a purchase on the website. PayPal transactions were and remain secure.

DivvyUp has taken steps to prevent a reoccurrence, to include ensuring that the website hosting company removed the malware, upgraded its security protocols, and DivvyUp retained a website security service to confirm its actions have resulted in a secure environment. DivvyUp is also allowing payments only through PayPal which has been unaffected by this incident until DivvyUp completes and validates its IT environment, to ensure that transactions on its website will be secure.

This incident is the direct result of DivvyUp’s website hosting company’s failure to maintain a secure environment and it is in the process of replacing that vendor, which takes time. Limiting payments to PayPal, which remains secure, allows DivvyUp continue operations during the transition.

Attorney General John Formella

Notice of Data Breach

Dear <<Name>>:

What Happened?

Recently, we were notified by our website hosting company that their network security was compromised, allowing malware to be downloaded to the hosted website. Your personal information may have been inappropriately accessed by an unknown third party. Upon discovering the attack, we took immediate action to stop any further access and investigated the incident.

What Information was Involved?

On June 18, 2021, we discovered that the third party had access to payment transactions made through the hosted website between May 10, 2020 and June 18, 2021. This would include your name, address, and payment card information including the payment card number, CVC code, and expiration date for the card you used to make a purchase on the website. PayPal transactions were and remain secure. You are not at risk of identity theft as your Social Security number was not required when you made your transaction.

What We are Doing

We take the security of personal information very seriously, and we want to assure you that we are taking appropriate steps to prevent a reoccurrence, including ensuring that the website hosting company removed the malware, upgraded its security protocols, and we retained a website security service to confirm our actions have resulted in a secure environment. We are also allowing payments only through PayPal which has been unaffected by this incident until we complete and validate our IT environment, allowing us to assure you that your transactions on our website will be secure.

What You Can Do

Although we have taken steps to protect your information from being used inappropriately, we recommend that you review your payment card account statements closely for any unauthorized transactions. If you suspect unauthorized activity on your payment card(s), you should report it to the bank that issued your card immediately. You are not responsible for unauthorized charges on your credit card in an amount over $50 if you report the charges promptly within the adequate timeframe under the Fair Credit Billing Act. Please also review the enclosed "Additional Important Information" section included with this letter. This section describes additional steps you can take to help protect yourself, including recommendations by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) regarding details on how to place a fraud alert or a security freeze on your credit file, should you choose to do so. You can also contact the FTC for more information.

For More Information

If you have additional questions or concerns regarding this incident, please call 855-535-1776 between 9:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

We take the security of all information in our systems seriously. Please know that the protection of your personal information is our utmost priority, and we sincerely regret any inconvenience that this matter may cause you.

Sincerely,

DivvyUp

Massachusetts and Rhode Island residents: You have the right to obtain a police report if you are a victim of identity theft.

For residents of all states:

It is recommended that you remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing payment card account statements and monitoring your credit reports for unauthorized activity. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, whether or not you suspect any unauthorized activity on your account. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies. To order your free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com, or call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228. You can also order your annual free credit report by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0155-free-credit-reports>) to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281.

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus by phone and online with Equifax (https://assets.equifax.com/assets/personal/Fraud_Alert_Request_Form.pdf), Experian (<https://www.experian.com/fraud/center.html>), or Transunion (<https://www.transunion.com/fraud-victim-resource/place-fraud-alert>). A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. Initial fraud alerts last for one year. Victims of identity theft can also get an extended fraud alert for seven years. The phone numbers for all three credit bureaus are at the bottom of this page.

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You also have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency by certified mail, overnight mail, regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze for yourself or your spouse or a minor under 16: (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; (5) Proof of current address, such as current utility or telephone bill, bank or insurance statement; (6) legible photocopy of government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and (7) if you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. It is free to place, lift, or remove a security freeze.
