RE: Security Incident Notification - Update

Dear Sir/Madam:

I am writing to notify you of additional information to supplement our September 15, 2021 letter. In our initial notice to your office and consumers, we stated that no personally identifiable information was accessed by an unauthorized third party. We believe that statement was incorrect because we have learned that fraudulent tax returns were filed on behalf of a small subset of individuals, including one New Hampshire resident. We reached this understanding when IRS tax filings for certain affected individuals were rejected as duplicative, indicating that fraudulent returns were initially filed on behalf of these individual.

While we cannot confirm that these fraudulent returns were a result of this security incident, we nevertheless contacted this individual by phone and email to notify them of the duplicative filings. This individual was provided with 12 months of credit monitoring (contained in the original notices mailed to all impacted individuals. Additionally, we notified the FBI and are cooperating with their investigation into the duplicative tax filings.

Please contact me by phone at 860-563-2854 x206 or by email at chris@chokshicpa.com if you need any additional information regarding this incident.

Sincerely,

Christopher S. Mund
