NOTICE OF SECURITY INCIDENT

Re: Your Citibank Account – Security Notice

Dear ,

On behalf of Citi Cards, we are writing to inform you about a recent incident that involved personal information about you.

WHAT HAPPENED

We recently discovered that on between January, 2020 and December, 2021, a Citi employee improperly accessed your account to perform fraudulent online transactions on your account.

We take the security of your personal information very seriously and wanted to bring this to your attention. We also wanted to apologize for any inconvenience this may cause you.

WHAT INFORMATION WAS INVOLVED

Through our investigation, we have determined that the personal information involved in the incident may have included your Customer name, address, e-mail address, social security number, phone number, account/card number, security word, CVV code, user-name, expiration date, email address, and balance/credit limit information.

WHAT WE ARE DOING

All fraudulent transactions resulting from this incident have been reversed. In addition, we closed your account and reissued you a card with a new account number. Further, we initiated an investigation as soon as we learned of these issues to assess and remediate the incident and limit its effect on you. We continue to use ongoing measures to protect your account and personal information.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

We recommend that you take the following steps to monitor for any potential misuse of your personal information:

- You should regularly review your account statements and monitor free credit reports. Please promptly report suspicious or unusual activity on your accounts to us.
- Under federal law, you are entitled to obtain one free copy of your credit report every twelve months from each of the nationwide consumer reporting agencies. You can obtain a free copy of your credit report from each agency by calling 1-877-322-8228 or visiting www.annualcreditreport.com. We recommend that you periodically obtain credit reports from each nationwide credit reporting agency. If you discover information on your credit report arising from a fraudulent transaction, you may request that the credit reporting agency delete that information from your credit report file.

- You may also consider contacting the credit reporting agencies directly if you wish to put in place a fraud alert or a security freeze. A fraud alert will notify any merchant checking your credit history that you may be the victim of identity theft and that the merchant should take additional measures to verify the application. Contacting any one of the three agencies will place an alert on your file at all three. A security freeze restricts all creditor access to your account but might also delay any requests you might make for new accounts.
 - Equifax: 800-525-6285; www.equifax.com; P.O. Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374-0241
 - Experian: 1-888-EXPERIAN (397-3742); www.experian.com; P.O. Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013
 - TransUnion: 800-680-7289; www.transunion.com; Fraud Victim Assistance Division, P.O. Box 6790, Fullerton, CA 92834-6790

You will need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, and other personal information. The agencies are not permitted to charge you for placing or lifting a freeze. Each credit reporting agency will confirm your request with a unique PIN or password that you will need in order to lift or remove the freeze. You should keep the PIN or password in a safe place.

- To report incidents of fraud and identity theft, you can contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at 1-877-ID-THEFT or through their website at <http://identitytheft.gov>. You can also contact local law enforcement or your state's attorney general.
