Re: Incident Notification

Dear Attorney General Formella:

We are writing on behalf of our client, EquiLend Holdings, LLC (“EquiLend”), to notify your office of a security incident.

On January 23, 2024, EquiLend detected unauthorized activity on its systems, resulting in an incident that left certain of those systems unavailable for a period of time. EquiLend took steps to immediately contain the incident and launched an investigation with the assistance of third party forensic firms. The investigation indicated that EquiLend payroll and other human resources information was accessed by the unauthorized individual, which may have included the of two New Hampshire residents.

On March 7, 2024, EquiLend began mailing letters to the New Hampshire residents via U.S. mail in accordance with N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 359-C:20, a copy of which is attached. EquiLend is offering individuals a complimentary membership to credit monitoring and identity protection services. EquiLend is also providing contact details for individuals to ask any questions they may have about the incident.

To help prevent this type of incident from happening again, EquiLend has taken and continues taking steps to enhance its already existing security measures.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding this matter.

Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

We are writing to inform you of a recent data security incident that involved some of your information. This notice explains what happened, steps you may wish to take in response, and measures we have taken in response.

What Happened?

On January 23, 2024, we detected unauthorized activity on EquiLend systems. We immediately took steps to contain the incident and began an investigation with the assistance of a forensic firm, resulting in an incident that left certain of those systems unavailable for a period of time.

What Information Was Involved?

Our investigation has indicated that your EquiLend payroll and other human resources information was accessed by the unauthorized individual, including your

What We Are Doing.

We wanted to notify you of this incident and to assure you that we take it seriously. In response to the incident and to help prevent something like this from happening again, we have taken and are taking steps to enhance our existing security measures. We will continue to assess and implement further security measures as our investigation into the incident progresses.

What You Can Do.

At this time, we have no evidence from the investigation that any personal information has been used to commit identity theft or fraud. However, as a precaution, we are offering complimentary identity theft protection services through a membership with Identity Theft Guard Solutions, Inc. (IDX). This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. These identity protection services are completely free to you and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. If you have any questions about enrolling in these services, please email care@idx.us. For more information on identity theft prevention as well as some additional steps you can take in response, please see the additional information provided in this letter.

For More Information.

We regret that this incident occurred and apologize for any concern it may cause you. If you have any questions, please email

Sincerely,

EquiLend Holdings LLC

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

- Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-888-378-4329
- Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742
- TransUnion, PO Box 1000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-916-8800

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.identitytheft.gov

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 160, Woodlyn, PA 19094, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.
- You have the right to know what is in your file.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.
- Access to your file is limited.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.
- You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.
- You may seek damages from violators.
- Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have additional rights.
