Notice of Data Incident

Dear <<FirstName>> <<LastName>>,

We are writing to tell you about a data security incident that may have exposed some of your personal information and to provide you with steps you can take to protect your identity. We take the protection and proper use of your information very seriously. This incident was publicly announced by Belden, Inc. ("Belden") on November 24, 2020. We are contacting you directly to explain the circumstances of the incident.

What happened?

On November 18, 2020, Grass Valley USA, LLC and its worldwide affiliates ("Grass Valley") were made aware of a data security incident affecting its former owners, the Belden group. Grass Valley was owned by Belden until July 2020. Belden continues to provide IT, HR and other services for Grass Valley pursuant to the terms of Grass Valley's divestiture. On the evening of November 12, 2020, Belden IT professionals detected unusual activity involving certain company servers. Belden has reported to Grass Valley that upon detection of this activity, Belden immediately triggered its cybersecurity incident response plan, deployed teams of internal IT specialists, and engaged leading third-party cybersecurity forensic experts and other advisors to identify the scope of the incident and move quickly to mitigate the impact. According to Belden, forensics experts determined that Belden was the target of a sophisticated attack by a party outside the company. We understand that Belden learned on or about November 15, 2020 that the outside party accessed servers that contained, among other things, personal information of various individuals. Belden informed Grass Valley upon becoming aware that Grass Valley's current and some former employees were affected by the incident.

What information was involved?

Belden has informed Grass Valley that the personal information involved in this incident may have included your name, birthdate, government-issued identification numbers (for example, social security number), bank account information (for North American employees on Belden/Grass Valley payroll), home addresses, email addresses and other general employment-related information.

What we are doing?

The Grass Valley Senior Leadership Team has been working closely with Belden on your behalf. While Belden's investigation continues, Belden has informed us that it believes that it has stopped further unauthorized access of personal data on its servers. Belden is also working with regulatory and law enforcement officials, including the F.B.I. and Department of Homeland Security, to investigate the matter and we have engaged legal counsel to help us notify appropriate regulatory authorities. In addition, Belden has informed us that it is continuously monitoring for any suspicious activity on its systems that may impact Grass Valley employees and has deployed additional resources to reinforce the security of its systems.

To help relieve concerns and attempt to mitigate the consequences of this incident on affected individuals, Belden is offering a complimentary twenty-four month membership of Experian IdentityWorksSM Credit 3B. Fraud Alerts. There are two types of fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for at least one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft and you have the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. You can place a fraud alert on your credit report by contacting any of the three national credit reporting agencies.

Security Freeze. You have the ability to place a security freeze, also known as a credit freeze, on your credit report free of charge.

A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you may use an online process, an automated telephone line, or submit a written request to any of the three credit reporting agencies listed above. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that, if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past 5 years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, and display your name, current mailing address, and the date of issue.
