Re: Incident Notification

Dear Attorney General MacDonald:

We are writing on behalf of our client, JoFit, LLC (“JoFit”), to notify you of a security incident.

On May 13, 2019, the JoFit security team observed suspicious activity on its website jofit.com. JoFit immediately began an investigation and a leading computer security firm was engaged to assist. On July 2, 2019, the investigation identified the potential for unauthorized access to payment card data. Findings from the investigation suggest that certain customers’ payment card information, including name, address, payment card number, expiration date, and card security code (CVV), may have been obtained by an unauthorized third party for customers who entered payment card information on the website checkout page between January 18, 2019 and May 12, 2019. On July 19, 2019, JoFit determined that residents of New Hampshire were involved in the incident.

On August 5, 2019, JoFit will mail notification letters to 20 New Hampshire residents in accordance with N.H. Rev. Stat. § 359-C:20, via United States First-Class mail, in substantially the same form as the enclosed letter.¹ Notice is being provided to the individuals without delay. JoFit is providing a telephone number for individuals to call with any questions about the incident.

To help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future JoFit is enhancing the security measures for its website.

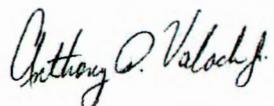

¹ This notice does not waive JoFit’s objection that New Hampshire lacks personal jurisdiction over JoFit regarding this incident.

Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

At JoFit, we understand the importance of protecting the payment card information of our customers. We are writing to inform you of a recent incident that may have involved your payment card information used to place an order on our website, jofit.com. This letter explains the incident, measures we have taken, and steps you can take in response.

On May 13, 2019, our security team observed suspicious activity on the website. We immediately began an investigation and a leading computer security firm was engaged to assist. On July 2, 2019, the investigation identified the potential for unauthorized access to payment card data. Findings from the investigation suggest that certain of our customers' payment card information, including name, address, payment card number, expiration date, and card security code (CVV), may have been obtained by an unauthorized actor. We believe the incident only involved customers who entered payment card information on the website checkout page between January 18, 2019 and May 13, 2019. We are notifying you because you placed or attempted to place an order on jofit.com during that time period using a payment card ending in <<b2b_text_1>>.

We encourage you to closely review your payment card statements for any unauthorized charges. You should immediately report any such charges to the bank that issued your card because payment card network rules generally provide that cardholders are not responsible for unauthorized charges that are timely reported. The phone number to call is usually on the back of your payment card.

We take the security of our customers' personal information very seriously. To help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future, we have enhanced the security measures for our website. In addition, we are working with the payment card networks so that banks that issue payment cards can be made aware.

If you have questions, please call 1-????-????-????, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Central Time.

Sincerely,

If you are a resident of West Virginia, you have the right to ask that nationwide consumer reporting agencies place "fraud alerts" in your file to let potential creditors and others know that you may be a victim of identity theft, as described below. You also have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report, as described below.

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one (1) year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. You can place a fraud alert on your credit report by contacting any of the three national credit reporting agencies.

Credit Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a security freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a security freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit.

There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com

TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com

Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.)
2. Social Security number
3. Date of birth
4. If you have moved in the past five years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the prior five years
5. Proof of current address such as a current utility bill or telephone bill
6. A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.)
7. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft

The credit reporting agencies have one business day after receiving your request by toll-free telephone or secure electronic means, or three business days after receiving your request by mail, to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number ("PIN") or password or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, or to lift a security freeze for a specified period of time, you must submit a request through a toll-free telephone number, a secure electronic means maintained by a credit reporting agency, or by sending a written request via regular, certified, or overnight mail to the credit reporting agencies and include proper identification (name, address, and Social Security number) and the PIN or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identity of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. The credit reporting agencies have one business day after receiving your request by toll-free telephone or secure electronic means, or three business days after receiving your request by mail, to lift the security freeze for those identified entities or for the specified period of time.

To remove the security freeze, you must submit a request through a toll-free telephone number, a secure electronic means maintained by a credit reporting agency, or by sending a written request via regular, certified, or overnight mail to each of the three credit bureaus and include proper identification (name, address, and Social Security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze. The credit bureaus have one business day after receiving your request by toll-free telephone or secure electronic means, or three business days after receiving your request by mail, to remove the security freeze.
