Re: Notification of Security Breach Affecting New Hampshire Residents

To Whom It May Concern:

On November 20, 2013, Mannix Marketing received information that credit card information for customers of four of its clients (Saratoga Sweets, Barkeater Chocolates, Olde Bryan Inn, and Coffee Planet) may have been compromised, including two individuals in New Hampshire. On November 25, 2013, Mannix provided notice of the breach to those four clients and informed the clients that although Mannix is only a maintainer of data, it will be taking on the statutory notice obligations on the clients' behalves. Mannix has determined that an unauthorized person gained access to its servers and, through that access, obtained personal information of consumers. The personal information that may have been affected includes name, address, phone number, email address, credit card number, and CCV number. The information was all in electronic form.

Mannix does not concede it is an "owner" or "licensor" as to the data at issue under New Hampshire or any similar law. In the interests of the individuals potentially affected, however, Mannix has chosen to spearhead the notification process, while reserving all rights to proceed against any relevant third parties for reimbursement, defense, and/or indemnity.

Mannix, on behalf of the relevant clients, is notifying the individuals potentially affected and has contracted with AllClear ID to provide identity monitoring and restoration services out of an abundance of caution. Notification letters are expected to be mailed on or around December 13, 2013. A sample copy of the notification letter is attached.

Office of the Attorney General

We have been in communication with other regulatory agencies as appropriate regarding this matter. Mannix has removed the malicious code from its servers and terminated the hacker's access. Mannix also has contracted with IT security professionals to analyze the breach.

If you have any questions regarding the information provided, I may be contacted at the number above.

Very truly yours,

LATHROP & GAGE LLP

Dear John Q. Sample,

On behalf of Saratoga Sweets, I am writing to inform you about an incident that potentially involved information about you. Saratoga Sweets received information on November 25, 2013, that an unauthorized person gained access to the servers of our Web hosting company, and may have accessed your credit card number and other personal information. We know that some information was compromised, but we do not know definitively that your information was part of that data set. Regardless, we are providing this notice as a precaution. We are committed to maintaining the privacy and security of the information we collect, and deeply regret that this incident occurred.

A computer forensics specialist was employed to determine exactly what type of data was compromised. We have confirmed that the following categories of data were accessible to the unauthorized third party: name, address, phone number, credit card number, and CCV number.

Various law enforcement agencies have been contacted regarding this breach, as have state regulators as appropriate. This incident resulted from a hack of encrypted servers. The malicious code has been removed the hacker's access has been terminated. We have no reason to believe there is a risk of a future attack on our Web site, but we will remain vigilant to identify any threats.

Although we cannot confirm that your information was accessed or misused, the type of information that was accessed by the hacker may place you at risk for identity theft. AllClear ID has been retained to protect your identity for 12 months at no cost to you. TransUnion, P.O. Box 6790, Fullerton, CA 92834-6790, 1-800-916-8800, www.transunion.com

When you receive your credit reports, review them carefully. Look for accounts or creditor inquiries that you did not initiate or do not recognize. Look for information, such as home address and Social Security number, that is not accurate. If you see anything you do not understand, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number on the report.

We recommend you remain vigilant with respect to reviewing your account statements and credit reports, and promptly report any suspicious activity or suspected identity theft to us and to the proper law enforcement authorities, including local law enforcement, your state's attorney general and/or the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"). You may contact the FTC or your state's regulatory authority to obtain additional information about avoiding identity theft.

If you are a California resident, we suggest that you visit the web site of the California Office of Privacy Protection at www.privacy.ca.gov to find more information about your medical privacy.

Fraud Alerts: There are also two types of fraud alerts that you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud: an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for at least 90 days. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. You can place a fraud alert on your credit report by calling the toll-free fraud number of any of the three national credit reporting agencies listed below.

Equifax: 1-800-525-6285, www.equifax.com

TransUnion: 1-800-680-7289, www.transunion.com

Credit Freezes (for Non-Massachusetts Residents): You may have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. In addition, you may incur fees to place, lift and/or remove a credit freeze. Credit freeze laws vary from state to state. The cost of placing, temporarily lifting, and removing a credit freeze also varies by state, generally $5 to $20 per action at each credit reporting company. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. Since the instructions for how to establish a credit freeze differ from state to state, please contact the three major credit reporting companies as specified below to find out more information:

Equifax, P.O. Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com
Experian, P.O. Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
TransUnion, LLC, P.O. Box 2000, Chester, PA, 19022-2000, www.transunion.com

You can obtain more information about fraud alerts and credit freezes by contacting the FTC or one of the national credit reporting agencies listed above.

Credit Freezes (for Massachusetts Residents): Massachusetts law gives you the right to place a security freeze on your consumer reports. A security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. Using a security freeze, however, may delay your ability to obtain credit. You may request that a freeze be placed on your credit report by sending a request to a credit reporting agency by certified mail, overnight mail or regular stamped mail to the address below:

Equifax, P.O. Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com
TransUnion, LLC, P.O. Box 2000, Chester, PA, 19022-2000, www.transunion.com

Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. The following information should be included when requesting a security freeze (documentation for you and your spouse must be submitted when freezing a spouse's credit report): full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; Social Security number; date of birth (month, day and year); current address and previous addresses for the past five (5) years; and applicable fee (if any) or incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Department of Motor Vehicles. The request should also include a copy of a government-issued identification card, such as a driver's license, state or military ID card, and a copy of a utility bill, bank or insurance statement. Each copy should be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue (statement dates must be recent). The credit reporting company may charge a reasonable fee of up to $5 to place a freeze or lift or remove a freeze, unless you are a victim of identity theft or the spouse of a victim of identity theft, and have submitted a valid police report relating to the identity theft to the credit reporting company.
