Re: Notice of Data Security Incident

Dear Sir or Madam:

We represent McLane Middleton, Professional Association (“McLane” or “Firm”), which is headquartered at 900 Elm Street, Manchester, New Hampshire 03101, and are writing to notify your office of an incident that may affect the security of some personally identifiable information (“PII”) relating to four hundred forty-nine (449) New Hampshire residents. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, McLane does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of New Hampshire law, the applicability of the New Hampshire data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Security Incident

On or about August 17, 2020, McLane Middleton became aware of a security incident involving email files on the desktop computers of a few Firm employees. After initially learning about spoofing activity earlier in the summer, McLane immediately had an independent forensic expert investigate to determine which email files were impacted. The Firm then warned all individuals whose email addresses were in the spoofed accounts about the spoofing activity, and reviewed the emails in those accounts. While the Firm is not aware that any email containing PII was actually subject to unauthorized access, the Firm cannot definitively determine that PII was not compromised. The Firm likewise is not aware of any actual misuse of any PII. Nonetheless, out of an abundance of caution, the Firm is notifying current and former employees about the incident, as well as six (6) non-employees whose social security numbers were contained in emails in the spoofed accounts, and offering them all two years of identity and credit protection.

Notice to New Hampshire Residents

On or about December 9 and 14, 2020, McLane provided written notice of this incident to all affected individuals, which includes four hundred forty-seven (447) New Hampshire residents who are current or former employees of the Firm, and two (2) New Hampshire residents who are non-employees. Written notices are being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibits A and B.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, McLane moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of the Firm's systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. McLane is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. The Firm is providing access to credit and identity monitoring and restoration services for two (2) years, through Experian IdentityWorks, to individuals whose PII was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, McLane is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or bank. McLane is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, information on protecting against tax fraud, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Re: Notice of Data Breach

Dear Name,

We are writing to inform you about a data security incident experienced by McLane Middleton, Professional Association. (“Firm”). While we are not aware that any information about you was exposed, we are nonetheless notifying you out of an abundance of caution, and offering you a two year membership in the Experian IdentityWorks program described below. Please email the Firm at c.a.schmidt@mclane.com, or call me at 603-628-1414, Steve Burke at 603-628-1454, or Cam Shilling at 603-628-1351, with any questions that you may have about this matter.

What Happened? The Firm is aware that certain individuals outside the Firm have received spoof emails impersonating the accounts of a few Firm employees. The spoof emails included threads of prior legitimate emails between the individuals and the Firm. However, we do not know of any spoofing that involved email or information with our about you.

A forensic expert investigated the matter and determined that malware on the desktop computers of a few Firm employees could have resulted in the compromise of emails on those computers. The Firm reviewed the emails on those computers. One such email contained your Social Security Number (“SSN”). That email was a communication between employees within the Firm, since our system does not permit transmission of SSN’s outside our network. We have your SSN for purposes of performing work related to the formation of Tar Park LLC. Again, we are not aware that any email, your SSN, or other information about you was actually compromised. Nonetheless, because we value your privacy and security, we are notifying you about this incident, and offering and encouraging you to enroll in the identity and credit protection program described below.

What Information Was Involved? While we are not aware that any email or information about you was actually compromised, your SSN was contained in an email on an affected computer.

What Should You Do? Protecting your credit and identity is important, no matter whether you know that you have been affected by a security incident or not. An identity and credit protection program is one of the tools you can and should use to do so. We also encourage you to review the information found in the enclosed “Steps You Can Take To Help Protect Your Information.”

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Monitor Accounts

Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

You have the right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a security freeze on your credit report. Should you wish to place a security freeze, please contact the major consumer reporting agencies listed below:

In order to request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. If you have moved in the past five (5) years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the prior five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, military identification, etc.);
7. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

As an alternative to a security freeze, you have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on your file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the agencies listed below:

Re: Notice of Data Breach

Dear Sample,

We are writing to inform you about a data security incident experienced by McLane Middleton, Professional Association. (“Firm”) concerning current and certain former employees. We are notifying you because the incident may have involved personally identifiable information (PII), in the form of social security numbers (SSNs) and financial account numbers. While we are not aware of any improper use of your or any other colleague’s PII, we are nonetheless notifying you about it and providing you with two years of complimentary identity and credit protection services. We encourage you to promptly enroll in the Experian IdentityWorks program described below, call Experian if you have any questions about that program or need help enrolling, and email the Firm at c.a.schmidt@mclane.com or call me at 603-628-1414 or Cam Shilling at 603-628-1351 with any other questions that you may have about this matter.

What Happened? One of our colleagues notified the Firm that the colleague received spoof email impersonating the account of a Firm employee. The spoof email included a thread of a prior legitimate email between the colleague and the Firm employee. In an investigation concluded in mid-August 2020 by an outside forensic expert and the Firm’s IT team, we determined that malware on the desktop computer of the Firm employee could have resulted in the compromise of email on that computer.

You are receiving this letter because the affected Firm employee periodically handles PII of current and former colleagues, in the form of SSNs and financial account numbers. While the Firm is not aware that any email with your or any other colleague’s PII was actually subject to unauthorized access, the Firm also cannot definitively determine that email containing your PII was not compromised. The Firm likewise is not aware of any actual misuse of your or any other colleague’s PII in those emails. Nonetheless, because we value your privacy and security, we are offering and encouraging you to enroll in the identity and credit protection program described below.

What Information Was Involved? The incident may have involved PII of current and certain former employees in the form of SSNs and financial account numbers.

What Should You Do? Protecting your credit and identity is important, no matter whether you know that you have been affected by a security incident or not. An identity and credit protection program is one of the tools
