Re: Reporting of Security Breach

Dear Attorney General Delaney:

This law firm represents Mission Linen Supply Company, a California corporation, (the "Company") in connection with a security breach incident that we believe to have taken place in June and July of 2012. The Company is in the business of selling uniforms, apparel and related items. The sale of these items is effected through "webstores" branded for Company customers and developed and hosted by a third party vendor, UniformMarket LLC of Northbrook, IL (the "Vendor"), on behalf of the Company. Although purchases made through these webstores are considered transactions with the Company, personally identifiable information that was provided by the individuals purchasing goods through the webstores was stored and maintained by the Vendor on its servers, and not with the Company.

The Company was notified on June 29, 2012 by one of its customers that several end users of the Company webstore for such customer had reported unauthorized charges on their credit cards. The common point of purchase for all end users was the Company webstore. As the Company began to investigate this incident, further reports were received from other customers relating to transactions processed through other Company webstores hosted by the Vendor. Based on information currently available to us, we believe that there was an illegal intrusion or other potential unauthorized access to the Vendor's servers or database, and credit card and other personal information of some or all of the Company's customers was stolen. With respect to each affected customer, the personal information that may have been acquired includes the customer name, address, and credit card information (including expiration date, CVV and PAN).

The Company has been diligently investigating this incident since the first report at the end of June. The Vendor assures the Company that the database was encrypted, but the Company has no information that the encryption was not somehow broken or otherwise compromised. Based on the review of the Company's database, two (2) New Hampshire residents may have been affected by this incident. Although we have received no reports of fraudulent charges from New Hampshire residents, the enclosed notice has been provided to alert them to be vigilant.

Pursuant to New Hampshire state law, we are hereby notifying your office of this incident. The letter sent to New Hampshire residents commencing on July 24, 2012 is attached. The Company has arranged to provide one year of access to Equifax, a leading provider of identity protection and fraud detection services, to users of the Company's webstores whose credit card information may have been compromised, at the Company's cost.

Since discovering the possible data breach incident, the Company has taken a number of steps to establish the scope of the breach, mitigate any potential losses, and prevent further unauthorized access. The Company has been working with its merchant bank and is cooperating with local law enforcement and the U.S. Secret Service.

In addition to investigating this matter internally, cooperating with law enforcement agencies, working with the Company's affected customers to prevent or minimize the misuse of their personal information, and taking other steps to mitigate the risk of potential harm, the Company continues to work with the Vendor in further attempts to gain additional information and is working with its own information technology staff and third party security consultants to prevent any future unauthorized access to customer information.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at (617) 348-1732.

Sincerely,

Cynthia J. LaRose

July __, 2012

Dear [insert name]:

We are writing to you because of a recent security incident which may have resulted in unauthorized access of your personal information.

On or about June 29, 2012 we received word from one of our customers that several of their employees had reported unauthorized charges on their credit cards. As you probably know, we are in the business of selling uniforms, apparel and related items. Many of these sales take place through "web stores" that are developed and hosted by a third party vendor on behalf of Mission Linen Supply. Although purchases made through these web stores are considered transactions with Mission Linen Supply, personally identifiable information that was provided by persons who purchased goods through the web stores was stored and maintained by this third party vendor and not by Mission Linen Supply.

As a result of some potentially unauthorized access to this vendor's file servers, Mission Linen Supply believes that your credit or debit card number, the expiration date and possibly your name and other credit card information were compromised. We have been diligently investigating this incident along with our third party vendor.

Since discovering this possible data breach incident, we immediately contacted our credit card processor and the third party vendor. We also immediately (1) directed the vendor to protect all personal information that might have been compromised; (2) began sending urgent emails to our customers alerting them of the possibility of compromise; (3) began an extensive internal investigation; (4) notified local law enforcement, including the U.S. Secret Service; and (5) notified our merchant bank of the suspected issue. Our third party vendor confirmed to us that credit card information was encrypted on its server, but we are still investigating how that encryption might have been broken. Going forward, the third party vendor will no longer be collecting or storing any credit card information at all. It will only be collected by a processor whose sole job is the secure collection and processing of credit card information.

To protect yourself from the possibility of unauthorized charges, if you have not already done so, we recommend that you contact your credit card issuer immediately by calling the toll-free number located on the back of your card or on your monthly statement, tell them you have received this letter, and ask them to cancel and reissue the card. You should tell your credit card issuer that your account may have been compromised and you should review all charges on your account for potentially fraudulent activity.

In addition to the cancellation of your credit card, please review the detailed instructions attached relating to fraud alerts and security freezes, as well as information on receiving and reviewing your credit reports.

RECOMMENDED STEPS TO HELP PROTECT YOUR IDENTITY

PLEASE NOTE: NO ONE IS ALLOWED TO PLACE A FRAUD ALERT ON YOUR CREDIT REPORT EXCEPT FOR YOU. PLEASE FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS BELOW TO PLACE THE ALERT.

1. Request and review credit reports

As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained and request that the card or account be closed. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). FOR MASSACHUSETTS RESIDENTS: We are also required to inform you that you have the right to obtain a police report regarding the breach.

To file a complaint with the FTC, go to www.ftc.gov/idtheft or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (877-438-4338). Complaints filed with the FTC will be added to the FTC's Identity Theft Data Clearinghouse, which is a database made available to law enforcement agencies.

You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting <http://www.annualcreditreport.com>, calling toll-free 877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You can elect to purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one of the three national credit reporting agencies. Contact information for the three national credit reporting agencies for the purpose of requesting a copy of your credit report is provided below:

Equifax
(800) 685-1111
www.equifax.com
P.O. Box 740241
Atlanta, GA 30374

Experian
(888) 397-3742
www.experian.com
P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion
(800) 916-8800
www.transunion.com
P.O. Box 6790
Fullerton, CA 92834

When you receive your credit reports, look them over carefully. Look for accounts you did not open. Look for inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate, and look for personal information, such as home address and Social Security number, that is not accurate. If you see anything you do not understand, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number provided on the report. When you review your credit card statements, look for charges you did not authorize and report these to your credit card issuer for investigation.

If you do find suspicious activity on your credit reports, call your local police or sheriff's office and file a police report of identity theft. Obtain a copy of the police report as you may need to give copies of the police report to creditors to clear up your records.

Even if you do not find signs of fraudulent activity on your reports, we recommend that you check your credit report every three months for the next year. To do so, just call one of the numbers above to order your reports and keep the fraud alert in place.

2. Place Fraud Alerts

You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least 90 days. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. For this reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but it also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies using the contact information below:

Equifax Fraud Reporting
(800) 525-6285
www.equifax.com
P.O. Box 740241
Atlanta, GA 30374

Experian Fraud Reporting
(888) 397-3742
www.experian.com
P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion Fraud Reporting
(800) 680-7289
www.transunion.com
P.O. Box 6790
Fullerton, CA 92834

It is necessary to contact only ONE of these bureaus and use only ONE of these methods. As soon as one of the three bureaus confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place alerts on their records as well. You will receive confirmation letters in the mail and will then be able to order all three credit report, free of charge, for your review.

3. Security Freeze

In some US states, you have the right to put a security freeze on your credit file. This will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a PIN that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a security freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. Additionally, if you request a security freeze from a credit reporting agency, there may be a fee of up to $5.00 to place, lift, or remove the security freeze. If you are a victim of identity theft (or spouse of a victim) and have filed a report with your local law enforcement agency and have obtained a valid police report or submitted an ID Complaint Form with the Federal Trade Commission, there is no charge to place the freeze.

In order to request a security freeze you will need to provide the following information:

- Your full name (including middle initial, as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.)
- Social Security number
- Date of birth

- If you have moved in the past five (5) years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the past five (5) years
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill
- A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.)
- If you a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft
- If you are not a victim of identity theft, include payment by check, money order or credit card. Do not send cash through the mail.

The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both, that can be used by you to authorize the removing or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report or to remove the security freeze, you must call or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze, as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report, or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. This cannot be done by telephone. The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to either remove or lift the security freeze.
