RE: Notification of Security Breach

Dear Attorney General Delaney:

I am writing on behalf of ThePartsBin.com to inform you of a recent security incident concerning an unauthorized intrusion involving our website, www.ThePartsBin.com. The information affected may have included personal information of customers including the name and credit card information of 235 residents of your state.

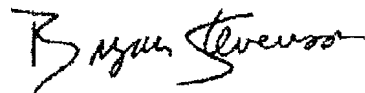

We are continuing to investigate this incident but believe that information about customer credit card transactions may have been accessed between the period of April 9, 2012, and June 12, 2012. To date, we have not received any reports of misuse of information.

We have taken several steps to protect customer information since the discovery of this incident. We have added extra security to ThePartsBin.com site and servers to prevent similar attacks from occurring. We have notified law enforcement, and we are continuing to investigate the incident. We have also informed the payment networks and credit reporting agencies so that they may take appropriate action.

Please find a copy of the notification that will be sent to the affected individuals by as early as June 29, 2012, enclosed.

Please contact me at 16941 Kccgan Ave., Carson, CA 90746 Attention: General Counsel with any questions or concerns regarding this incident or at bstevenson@usautoparts.com or 310-735-0092.

Sincerely,

Bryan P. Stevenson, General Counsel.

This letter is in reference to your credit card ending in: _____.

Dear [Name],

I am writing to let you know of a security incident occurring between April 9, 2012, and June 12, 2012, involving our website, www.ThePartsBin.com. Due to this incident, we have reason to believe that your name and credit card information may have been accessed without authorization.

We have taken several steps to protect customer information since the discovery of this incident. We have added extra security to ThePartsBin.com site and servers to prevent similar attacks from occurring. We have notified law enforcement, and we are continuing to investigate the incident. We have also informed the payment networks and credit reporting agencies so that they may take appropriate action.

Even though to date we have not received any reports of misuse of information, we recommend that you monitor your financial accounts and credit reports for fraudulent transactions. Please consider contacting the credit reporting agencies if you wish to put in place a fraud alert or obtain a free copy of your credit report. If you see anything you do not recognize or understand, call the credit agency's number listed on the report. Examples of suspicious activity include accounts you did not open, inquiries from creditors you did not initiate, or an inaccurate home address or Social Security Number. Contact information for the credit reporting agencies is below should you have questions about fraud alerts or need help reading your credit report. You can protect yourself from the possibility of identity theft with respect to your credit card information by immediately contacting your credit card issuer to close, freeze, or re-issue your account.

Equifax: 1-800-525-6285; www.equifax.com; P.O. Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374-0241

Experian: 1-888-EXPERIAN (397-3742); www.experian.com; P.O. Box 9532, Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion: 1-800-680-7289; www.transunion.com/fraud; Fraud Victim Assistance Division, P.O. Box 6790, Fullerton, CA 92834-6790

As you monitor your transaction records and credit reports, if you suspect fraudulent transactions have occurred, contact your local law enforcement agency or credit card issuer.

In addition, the Federal Trade Commission web site at www.consumer.gov/idtheft contains information and tips to help individuals guard against identity theft.
