Re: Data Breach Notification Pursuant To N.H. Rev. Stat. § 359-C:20(i)(b)

To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of Venetian Casino Resort, LLC ("Venetian") and pursuant to N.H. Rev. Stat. § 359-C:20(i)(b), I am writing to provide notification of an information security breach involving the personal information of New Hampshire residents. Venetian recently learned that, while employed by Venetian and working from home, a now-former employee uploaded to a personal file storage website both her own personal files and also some files belonging to Venetian. The data included the personal information of individuals who had stayed at The Venetian Resort Hotel in 2005, including approximately 14 New Hampshire residents.

Venetian takes privacy and security matters very seriously, and the former employee's actions violated company policy. Venetian has taken all necessary steps to ensure that the information has been permanently removed from the website and deleted from the former employee's computer.

Venetian is sending the attached notice to all individuals (including New Hampshire residents) it has identified whose personal information may have been accessed. The notices describe, among other things: (1) the general description of the incident resulting in the potential information security breach; (2) the type of personal information that was the subject of the possible security breach; (3) the precautionary measures that Venetian has taken to protect personal information from further unauthorized access; (4) a toll-free telephone number for inquiries regarding the incident; and (5) how to enroll in Equifax's credit monitoring service, which is being made available to affected individuals free of charge for one year.

Dear []:

I write to alert you to a security incident relating to the inadvertent release of certain information held by Venetian Casino Resort, LLC. In August 2007, we learned that, while employed by us and working from home, a now-former employee uploaded to a personal file storage website both her own personal files and also some files belonging to us.

One of the files that was uploaded included your name, address and a credit card number that you had provided to us in connection with your 2005 stay at The Venetian Resort Hotel Casino. The name of the file that included your information did not indicate the contents of the file. We believe that the files were not intended to be viewed by the general public, but they were not secured when they were found.

We deeply regret this incident. The former employee's actions in this regard violated company policy, and we can assure you that we have taken all necessary steps to ensure that the information has been permanently removed from the website and deleted from the former employee's computer.

We can not tell if your information was actually viewed and/or inappropriately used by others, but we would like to suggest some steps you may wish to take to help protect yourself against possible fraud:

1. Federal law entitles you to annual receipt of one free comprehensive disclosure of all of the information in the credit files maintained by each of the three national credit bureaus. You may request your free credit report once every 12 months by calling (877) FACTACT, or through the internet at <http://www.AnnualCreditReport.com>. If there is inaccurate information in your credit bureau reports, promptly notify the credit bureau to have the data corrected.
2. Carefully monitor your credit statements during the next 12-24 months to make certain there have been no unauthorized transactions or unauthorized new accounts opened in your name. If there is unauthorized activity on any account or if an unauthorized account has been opened in your name, contact the company issuing the account immediately.

- 3. Contact one of the three major credit bureaus to request that an initial free 90-day fraud alert be added to your file (the other two credit bureaus will be notified automatically). By requesting a 90-day fraud alert, anyone seeking credit in your name must verify their identity. Contact information for each of the three credit bureaus is:

Equifax
 (877) 478-7625
 P.O. Box 740241
 Atlanta, GA 30374-0241
<http://www.equifax.com>

Experian
 (888) 397-3742
 P.O. Box 9532
 Allen, TX 75013
<http://www.experian.com>

TransUnion
 (800) 680-7289
 Fraud Victim Assistance Dept.
 P.O. Box 6790
 Fullerton, CA 92834-6790
<http://www.transunion.com>

Should you notice any suspicious, unusual, or unauthorized activity, steps you may wish to take include:

- 1. Notifying the fraud department of any one of the major credit bureaus listed above.
- 2. Making a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission by using the FTC's Identity Theft Hotline at: 1-877-438-4338, online at www.consumer.gov/idtheft, or by mail to Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington DC 20580.
- 3. Closing any accounts that have been tampered with or opened fraudulently.
- 4. Initiating a security freeze. A security freeze means that your credit file cannot be shared with potential creditors. If your credit files are frozen, even someone who has your name and Social Security number should be unable able to get credit in your name (no Social Security numbers were in the files that were inadvertently disclosed by our former employee). A security freeze is free to those who have a police report of identity theft. If you don't have a police report, it costs $10 to place a freeze with each credit bureau, for a total of $30. The credit bureaus require that a freeze request be made in writing (by certified mail).

Experian Security Freeze

In order to assist you in protecting yourself against possible fraud, we are offering you a one year subscription to the Equifax Credit Watch™ Gold with 3-in-1 Monitoring identity theft protection service. The Equifax Credit Watch service will provide you with a credit report from each of the three credit bureaus (Equifax, Experian and TransUnion), daily alerts from any of the three credit bureaus and unlimited Equifax credit reports. The instructions for registering for this service are attached.

If you have questions about this incident and its implications, please call our toll-free number, _____.

On behalf of Venetian Casino Resort, LLC, I again regret that this incident occurred. We make substantial efforts to protect all of the data provided to us by our guests, but no company is immune from accidental disclosures. We have worked diligently to have the data deleted, and will help you address problems you may encounter that are related to this matter.

Sincerely,

Paul Pusateri
